ILLINOIS SERVICE CENTER NETWORK PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PLANNER

---

The purpose of this Planner is to increase the benefits of professional development through use of a comprehensive, systematic process for addressing needs of programs, staff, and administrators. The Planner will allow staff to see areas in need of improvement that will benefit their students and at the same time increase their professional knowledge and skills. Programs will benefit by improving instruction, advancing retention and better meeting the needs of students.

Administrators will find this Planner helpful in a variety of ways:

- first, as a staff development tool that leads to identification of appropriate and available professional development activities;
- second, as a useful reporting mechanism for professional development outcomes; and
- third, as a component of staff evaluation.

When using this Professional Development Planner, an instructor would follow these steps:

Part I. Foundations: Self-Evaluation: Complete the Foundations: Self-Evaluation in the appropriate instructional area (ESL or ABE/GED).

Part II. Summary of Foundations Self Evaluation. Summarize the Self-Evaluation by listing the Foundations circled as #1 for need and priority. Then identify Service Center workshops that can address those needs from the supplemental handout, Foundations Correlated to Workshops.

Part III. Personal Professional Development Worksheet: From the identified needs and priorities, complete the Personal Professional Development Worksheet by setting a primary professional goal for the year and planning appropriate professional development activities for that year to meet that goal.

Note: Potential professional development activities to address Foundations identified and to meet goals can be found by referring to: 1) the Service Center workshops identified in Part II; current workshop offerings can be found on the websites of the individual Service Centers and the CALL Statewide Calendar online on its website; 2) Additional Sources of Professional Development (Attachment 1); and 3) other sources of professional development identified through other means.

Part IV. Professional Development Activity Log: Record and assess the value (for instructor, students, and program) of the activities on the Professional Development Activity Log. These Activity Logs can be kept on file to use for continuous program evaluation.

It is the hope of the Illinois Service Center Network that you will find this Professional Development Planner both effective and valuable. We look forward to assisting you and your staff in their professional development growth. For more information or assistance, contact your regional service center.
